

Announcement for July 1-2, 2021

Virtual Food Science Symposium

Are we prepared for the next food trends and challenges ?

www.aoaceurope.com Visit our web pages ! www.swissfoodchem.ch

This joint-venture virtual Symposium between AOAC Europe and the Swiss Society for Food Chemistry (SFC) will be a unique opportunity for scientific exchange on food science with 4 plenary sessions surrounded by poster presentations.

PLENARY LECTURES

Invited plenary speakers will provide insight and guidance on

- 1) last trends for novel foods
- 2) the evolution of the regulatory environment
- 3) state-of-the-art analytical methods
- 4) the challenges that awaits us regarding emerging hazards

This event virtually hosted in Switzerland and organised by a committee composed of members from AOAC Europe and the Swiss Society for Food Chemistry. It represents an excellent opportunity for scientists and food safety managers from academia, industry and government laboratories or institutions to share their knowledge.

POSTERS

Besides the presentations of distinguished invited speakers, the organising committee invites participants to present their poster during the meeting on any topic related to food chemistry and food analytics.

Posters will be available for viewing during the entire meeting and presenters can be contacted using the networking tools during the meeting. This dedicated poster session during the meeting includes short oral presentations on the posters in virtual rooms.

ADDITIONAL INFORMATION

Conferences fees are 50 € for members of the above-mentioned societies, 100 € for Non-Members and is free of charge for students. Registration, program, deadlines and details please have a look at the websites:

www.aoaceurope.com and www.swissfoodchem.ch

There are a lot of reasons to participate to this engaging online event and learn what currently happens in the wide field of food sciences. The organising committee hopes to see you soon on the interactive virtual platform for an authentic connection !